There were many other delegations present at the session, which allows foreigners who reside in the Ten Thousand Islands to be candidates for the presidency. However, a motion to postpone consideration of this clause until the last session of the convention, owing to its importance, was carried by a vote of 16 to 16. The motion was introduced by the anti-Gomes faction in order to gain time, as Pedro Gomez, who will lead the fight against Gomes, is suffering with grippe. Pedro Gomez did not object to the postponement, giving as the reason his desire to prevent scandal. Some of the anti-Gomes delegates threatened to resign if there was no postponement.*Gen. Gomez has not written another letter*denouncing his determination not to accept the presidency, as his friends said he would do.*A story has been circulating here for some time to the effect that a clique, all of whom are not Cubans, desire the presidency for Gen. Gomez with similar aims such as the permanent of the Cuban bonds issued by the Spanish Government, the securing of franchises and the floating of municipal bonds.*It is said that these men will try to draw Gen. Gomez and his wife to gain their own ends.*The convention added a clause to the thirteenth section, this provides that*the number to be determined by law shall be attached to the executive.
